CHICAGO, ILL., Feb. 26.—Wheat moved skyward to-day, the greatest momentum being attained during the last hour, after the crowd had about given up hope of particularly important good resulting from Bradstreet's report of a decrease of 4,477.000 bushels in the world's available stocks, and when a number of them had sold out their wheat in disgust. The news of a builish kind overbalanced the bearish very materially, but despite extraordinary efforts on the part of buyers the market failed to advance with anythink like celerity during the morning. The first announcement of an encouraging character was the correction of the English visible supply statement to show a decrease of 500,000 bushels, as given out yesterday. Then the Liverpool cables came in with a slight advance, followed by the report of Baltic and indian shipments of but 1,732,000 tushels, which, added to the 1,800,000 bushels cleared from Americas last week, ade up only one-half the amount suppered to be required by importing countries. Liberal sales of cash wheat at Minneapolis were freard of, which helped along the beinging its limitations here. May wheat opened at 1338c., sold between 184c. and 528c., closing at 544c544c., 16413c. Higher than yesterday.

wheat ranged from % to ½c, higher than yesterday.

Corn lacked much of the strength that revaded the market yesterday, although the proncunced strength of wheat succeeded in preventine prices from going tower. The business was mainly local and scalping, no deals of importance taking place and commission houses reporting a dearth of orders either to buy or sell. Bradstreet's gave a decrease in stocks of 137,000 bushels. May corn opened at 45½c, sold between 45c, and the closing at 45½c, ½gi4c, higher than yesterday. Cash corn was ¼c, per gushel higher.

Outs at no time displayed activity, and were consequently at a complete stand-good. Strength came from wheat and oats at no time displayed activity, and core consequently at a complete stand-unit. Strength came from wheat and orif. and a slight advance was scored, radstreet's report showed that available ocks fell off 20,000 bushels during the past week. May closed at a gain of a squared to 34c, higher under a good man? unenanged to 4c. higher under a good unenanged to 4c. higher under a good unenanged. The strength and improvement in grain did not receive approbation by product, the free and general selling of packers holding values down. A firm hog market at the yards was also powerless as an influence. The bulk of the trading took place during the morning, the latter portion of the session being quite dull. The close was sion being quite dull. The close was 25c. under yesterday each for May pork, 1 lay lard and May ribs. Domestic markets were quiet. Liverpool was easier. Wheat— Opening. Closing.

TO EXTEND THE LEAVE.

RESOLUTION IN REFERENCE TO COL. ROCKENBACK IN THE SENATE.

When Mr. Tucker's Resolution in Reference to the Appomattox Park Comes Up in the House it Will Meet Opposition.

TIMES BURFAU, EAPLEY BUILDING,

WASHINGT N. Feb. 26, 1895. | Some time ago it was published in this orrespondence that at the request of Senator Daniel the leave of absence of Lieutenant Rockenback had been extended by the Secretary of War, and that he would be allowed to remain at the virginia Military Institute as commandant of cadets.

Much surprise was created when only a few days ago the Lieutenant was ordered to rejoin his regiment. Inquiry at the War Department revealed the fact that the Secretary had acted under a misapprehension when he granted the extension of leave, as the regulations of the department provide that the leave of absence of an officer on special duty cannot be extended over twice, and the Secretary was under the impression that Lieu-tenant Rockenback's leave had only been extended once.

The Secretary of War is entirely willing for the Lieutenant to remain at the Institute, and in order to give him the authority to grant him a further extension of heavy Secretary Daniel to-day introof leave Senator Daniel to-day intro-duced a resolution in the Senate authorizing him to do so.

Congressman Tucker will take charge of it in the House, and there is no reason why it should not pass both houses immediately. In the meantime Lieutenant Rocken back will be allowed to remain at the institute.

WILL OPPOSE THE PARK BESOLUTION. The bill introduced late yesterday afternoon by Congressman Tucker, providing for the creation of an Appomattox Fark Commission, is purely tentative, and is intended only as a preliminary step towards the purchase of the Appomattox property by the Government.

There is a wide diversity of opinion among ex-Confed-rates in Congress and elsewhere as to the propriety of this purchase by the Government, and in some instances the opposition to the movement is very pronounced.

is very pronounced.

While the selection of ex-Governor Fitz-hugh Lee as one of the commissioners meets with universal approval, it claimed by some of his friends here that, in their opinion, he will decline to serve but as it is understood that he has never been consulted in the matter, of course no one can speak authoritatively for him

The resolution introduced by Mr. Tucker will probably be reported from the Com-mittee on Military Affairs by a unanimous vote, but it is certain that when it comes up in the Heuse it will provoke a sharp and bitter fight, and while the Republicans and northern Democrats will accord it a hearty support, many of the ex-Con-federate soldiers will be found arrayed against it.

THAT FREE SILVER TICKET Quite a number of silver men have been here for some time, and informal conerences among them are of daily occurrence. A notable feature of these con-ferences is the absence from them of both Senators Teller and Wolcott. These pioneers of the silver movement, who represent the largest silver producing state in the Union, are evidently not entirely in accord with their numerous brethren, and are not taking much stock in their wild vagaries and chimerical procts, the latest of which is a proposition o place an independent silver ticket in the field at the next Presidential election. The head of the ticket is to come from Pennsylvania, in the person of the Hon. Joseph C. Sibley, while the tail of the creature will flop up from Missouri, and is to be represented by the Hon. William Henry Hatch, the late lamented from the First congressional district.

It is said that a prominent Virginia agricultural paper will shortly fly this ticket from its must-head, but it is hardly probable that the sensible farmers of ur State will take much stock in it.

gressman-elect Shuford, of North Carolina, who will succeed Congressman paried by Corgressman-elect Stroud, who defeated Congressman Bunn. These gen-tlemen are both Populists, and are products of the fusion movement in North Carolina.

Junge William McLaughlin, of Lexins ton, who has been in the city for several days, was on the floor of the House this morning. Saturiay, under the chaperon-age of Congressiva Tucker, he called at the Executive Mansion, and was very pleasantly received by the President. Messrs. J. M. A. Hobson and W. H. Parker, of Richmond, are registered at master to-day at Grover, Cleveland county, N. C., vice H. K. Roberts, removed.

The only Virginia appointment was that of A. B. Fogleman at Barnett, Russell county, vice L. L. Bays, resigned.

Young Methodist Gives His Name

Editor Times: I thought I would not say anything more after my last commu-nication in reply to "Old Methodist," but since the discussion has taken the course that it has most gladly will I discard my nom de plume and write over my own Mrs. Whitehead I have known from my childhood. Court-Street church, Lynch-burg, was the church home of us both for mary years. I have honored her, and ex-pect to do so, for one who knows her worth and works can but honor her. The fact, however, that zeal carries us a little beyond our reckening is not new. Did not the Master reprove the Disciple of Love, John, for wanting to call down fire from heaven upon the people that did not receive them. I believe the letters signed "Old Methodist" have done my good friend a great injustice. I was forced by the un-Methodistic spirit man-ifested to say that "Old Methodist" was a misnomer, knowing as I did that every ised "to be subject to the discipline of the Church, attend upon its ordinances and support its institutions," and that the true Methodist spirit is to seek the greatest good for the greatest number. even at the sacrifice of our personal pre-

Not only has Mrs. Whitehead done herself an injustice, but she has done her Church, her ministers and those of her laymen who represented her in the General Conference a greater injustice. In my communications I have given only the facts, in justice to the Church and the people I love, and without having to discard any of the facts I have stated I discard any of the facts I have stated I must add a few words more.

When Dr. John E. Edwards was pastor of the Court-Street church in Lynchburg the General Conference had not made the Epworth League a part of the Church organization, nor had they made it the duty of the pastors to organize Leagues in their congregations. Who for a moment could conceive of Dr. John E. Edwards, whose very name is a synonym for Virginia Methodism; or. John E. Edwards was very many is a synonym for Virginia Methodism; I say, who could conceive of his standing against the law of the General Conference, that is looking to the spiritual upbuilding of the Church, and of his seeking to abrogate it by continuing a secret, that is not in harmone with his seciety that is not in harmony with his Church, merely from personal fancies? The very idea is repulsive to the precious memory of that Methodist leader. So much has been said of "the lembe torn and bleeding, instead of the milk of loving kindness are fed upon cruel up-braiding," "the blessed training of persebraiding," "the blessed training of cution," etc., that I must say sor to correct this impression. In Richmond only one Endeavor Society has openly fought against the pastor and the Church, and in this only a tew members have shawn a state of the control of have shown a spirit far from the Christ spirit. It was reported that some cried at the proposed substitution. Not all cried for that; several said they cried because of the indignities offered their pastor, and because of the discredit cast on Christian Endeavor by their society. What of these "torn and bleeding lambs," when one of the leaders, and one who is probably largely responsible commotion, so grossly insulted the old-est Methodist pastor of our city, while in the discharge of his duty, as to put him in such a position as he had not been in for thirty-five years, and to force him to ask for an immediate explanation-a minister than whom none is more honored, either within or without his Church, and one whose work has been so signally owned and blessed of God? These are just a few more facts that I

On my part no feeling of anger has had any place in this discussion, but rather of sorrow and of love. I have stood for what I conceive to be right, and do now stand.

With the highest personal esteem for my old and honored friend, Mrs. Whitehead, and with the best wishes for the Christian Endeavor where it is needed, and for the Epworth League in every Methodist church in the world, I am, Yours in the Master's work,

A Young Methodist." W. ASBURY CHRISTIAN.

THAT WATER GAS PLANT.

FOUND IN GOOD SHAPE.

An Expert Ca. Plant Builder Made the Examingtion. The System of Distribution, However, is Faulty.

The Committee on Light met yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the upper gas works to make a thorough inspection of that establishment, as well as of the lower works. All the members of the committee were present, namely: Messrs. Grimes (chairman), Branch, Caskie, Davis, Hardwicke, Noble, Starke, Vaughan and Wallerstein. There were also in attendance Captain William Henry White, of New York, an expert builder of water gas plants; Superintendent Adams, Gas Inspector Knowles and Alderman Mann, formerly a member of the committee.

The upper as well as the lower works were thoroughly inspected, and at the latter Captain White explained in detail the process of making water gas. He showed how the generators are filled with coke and steam is then admitted from the bottom, while the oil has ac-cess from the top. From the generator, where the water gas is made, it goes into the superheater to receive its illuminat-ing power. The gas is carried through a long cylinder. lined with fire bricks, which are brought to a high degree of heat, and from there the gas passes through the scrubber and condenser, filled with cold water, so as to bring out the oil. Before conducted into the gas mains it passes through the purifying houses and the holder.

Water is composed by volume of two parts of hydrogen and one part of oxygen. Water gas derives its name from the fact that three-fifths of its weights and three-fourths of its bulk consists of the oxygen and hydrogen obtained by the the oxygen and hydrogen obtained by the decompositon of steam. Steam cannot be decomposed by the direct action of heat alone, but when subjected to a high temperature in the presence of certain re-ducers, that is to say, certain substances which at such high temperature stronger affinity for the oxygen of the steam than has the hydrogen with which it is combined, the oxygen will then comwith the reducing element and set the hydrogen free.

THE WORKS IN GOOD ORDER The Gas Works were found in first class condition in every respect, and at a meeting of the committee, which was subsequently held Captain White was requested to set forth his observations as to the condition of the water-gas plant. That gentleman then substantially made the following statement:

When I heard the criticism made by Mr. Glasgow as to your water-gas plant
I felt greatly surprised, knowing that he, like myself, had been a competitor for the work when this plant was to be established. Both of us were unsuccessful bidders, and I consider his subsequent action as unprofessional. When asked to come here a few days ago to inspec the gas plant, I did so willingly, and made a thorough examination of the works on Washington's birthday. I found the clant to be an excellent piece of work, in workmanship, as well as in regard to the esults achieved.

The charge had been made that the plant did not have sufficient superheat-ing capacity, but if that was so the oil would escape from the holders and get into the mains, which fact, however, does not exist. Possessing a thorough know-ledge of the gas industry, I can say that at least two-thirds of the gas plants at present in operation are fitted out with he same type of our single superheater. The plant of this city is a very good sample of this system. When I handed in a bid for the erection of the plant, I intended to establish a system of double superheaters, which would have required a good deal more money,

THE GAS OF FINE QUALITY. "While the plant is lacking some ornamental features, you are giving as fine a quality of gas as any city is entitled to have; but you cannot control the gas fixtures at the homes of the consumers. To make a gas of more than twenty andle-power would be a waste of m In many instances, the gas burners used by the consumers are doing the damage. "You have here what you need, practically modern works, which create a good quality of gas, but the system of distribution is at fault. Your gas pipes have been in the ground for about forty years, and you are forcing a much larger quanand you are forcing a man small pipes fliv of gas through the same small pipes than you did when the latter were first laid. In that manner, you establish an immense underground condenser and refrigerator, thereby injuring the illumifrigerator, thereby injuring the muminating power of the gas to a great extent. Of a hundred cubic feet of gar only eight feet are illuminating power, while the rest are carriers, heaters, etc. while the rest are carriers, heater, act. In the condensing process which is created by the forcing of large quantities of gas through the small pipes, only the illuminating power suffers, and the distribution of the gas, therefore, is not in the slightest degree adapted to modern requirements. "There are two things to be done by the authorities of this city. They should let the gas works alone, for they could not improve them, but they should put up an additional holder in the West End and run a larger main from the gas works up there. If the pipes are enlarged no more complaints will be heard as to the quality of the gas. To construct an additional holder and lay the necessary main will cost about $25,000 or $30,000. It would also be of advantage if the city would furnish the gas consumers with new burners free of charge."

After the committee had passed a vote of thanks to Captain White for the services so kindly rendered by him. the meeting adjourned,
